About the Wave Pool

The Wave Pool is a vanpool program that was created by the Cape Fear Public Transportation, Wave Transit, in response to the community need for transportation services. It was designed to provide a form of public transportation service for commuters whose access to fixed route bus service is limited or is not conducive to their commuting patterns. The Wave Pool also provides a service to employers that promotes strategic land use patterns that minimize the need for employee parking hereby protecting valuable natural resources. The vanpool service allow people who live and work near each other and have similar commuting schedules to share a ride to work. Wave Transit provides the vehicle, vehicle maintenance, fuel and insurance and employees pay a monthly fare.

Rules and Regulations for Passengers

Wave Pool passengers are expected to treat fellow vanpoolers as well the Wave Pool van with respect. Smoking and the consumption of alcoholic beverages is strictly prohibited on the van. Eating and drinking on the van is at the discretion of the driver; therefore, passengers are expected to comply with his/her decision. Passengers are expected to maintain the cleanliness and appearance of the vanpool. Each Wave Pool participant is expected to read and sign the driver/passenger agreement developed by Wave Transit. This agreement assures that all participants are aware of the vanpool rules, regulations, and operating procedures..

Termination from the Wave Pool

Passengers not complying with the rules, regulations and procedures set forth for the Wave Pool will be excused from the vanpool program.. This program was established for the benefit of the employees as well as the employer. Participants not respecting the van or other vanpool participants will be excused from the Wave Pool program.
