HELPING OTHERS CATCH THE WAVE

Who We Are

In 2010 board members and staff of the Cape Fear Public Transportation Authority (Wave Transit) developed a program to address the overwhelming need for access to affordable transportation in our community. Wave Transit transportation fares are already heavily subsidized by the Federal Transportation Administration (FTA), therefore, they were not in a position to meet the overwhelming requests for free or heavily subsidized transportation passes brought forth by individuals from the community. To address this gap within our community, Wave Transit staff and board members created a separate, independent nonprofit organization. Thus began the Making Waves Foundation (MWF), a 501 (c)3 public charity.

Landfall Foundation

In October 2019, MWF was a recipient of the annual Landfall Foundation Grant award. MWF received notification that it was one of eighteen community organizations selected to receive additional support for emergency relief efforts for those impacted by Hurricane Florence. The emergency relief funds allowed MWF to provide additional transportation assistance, over 2,750 trips, to community members impacted by the disaster. Recovery efforts continue through the First Fruit Ministry-Back at Home Program which has re-housed over 45 families since October 2018. Bus passes enable program participants to look for available homes, get to work, go to food pantries, and access services such as medical care, counseling, case management, and budget support.

"I'm a First Fruit Ministries client and Back at Home program participant. I use the Wave Transit bus passes to get to food banks and doctor's appointments. It would be a great help if I can continue getting these bus passes in the future. Thank you and God bless."
